

Your Catalog Overload

Continuing with the mail handling theme - do you know how simple, (I even find it enjoyable) it can be to DECREASE the number of catalogs that pile into your mail delivery?

Just call the 800 number (for ordering) on the catalog and ask to be taken OFF their mailing list. They usually say that it will take a few months for you to stop receiving catalogs as issues are already in line to be sent -- but that's okay. It's a free phone call and will save resources.

If you are afraid of losing contact with a particularly rare company you can save one of their catalogs for reference. Or just a page of the catalog with the number.

Enjoy the time and space you gain!

Joanna

p.s. A reply to my last tip, included here with permission.
Thank you Peggy!

"One of the things I also do is pick up mail and newspapers from the box at the end of our driveway and take the obvious crapola OUT of that collection while I am parked in space in my garage next to the recycling bins. That means that some of our stuff never even gets to mess up the inside of our house!

"I feel great on the days that I do this!!! "
Peggy, EEE teacher
